Four Women Receive PW Honor

Presbyterian Women awarded Honorary Lifetime Membership status to four incredible women at the 137th Annual Praise Gathering luncheon on May 3.

For 28 years Sally Bratton has personified dedication and talent at Second Church. She has sung with the Sanctuary Choir and served on the Music, Church Mission, Church Nominating and Small Church Grant Committees. She's decorated the sanctuary and participated in the Centering Prayer Workshop. Sally co-chaired the PW Christmas Bazaar, not once, but twice, and is a Deacon and member of Sages.

Gretchen Brown's cheery welcome is familiar to everyone she greets at the church reception area. A member of Second for 16 years, Gretchen is a Deacon, Elder, member of the Sunday Worship Ministry Team and recent co-chair of the Church

Pictorial Directory Committee. She has also participated in Stewardship Calling, Mariners Class, Wisdom Walk, Congregational Life Committee, Sages, Companions in Christ, the Intercessory Prayer Group and the Centering Prayer Workshop.

Gretchen Hall has been unselfishly keeping things in motion for ten years at Second Church. She is a valued member of the Monday Sorters group which organizes the donated PW Bazaar and Christmas Benevolence items. Her dedication to mission prompted her to make sure that all unsold items are sent to a variety of worthy recipient organizations. Gretchen is a Deacon and member of Sage Council and also contributed to the Church Pictorial Directory Committee.

A creative dynamo, Julie Osborne has made a great impact in just six years at Second. She has led PW's Moms on Monday to a new level of outreach. Through her passion for mission, Julie initiated several projects to raise money for needy children and families in Kenya. She's been a Sunday school teacher, Deacon, PW Bazaar and Christmas Benevolence volunteer and PW P.R. Coordinator. Julie lives out her faith as she prepares for the ministry under the care of Session.
